

The Henley & Partners Forum Comes to Zurich

5–6 May 2015

at The Dolder Grand Hotel

Henley & Partners continues its highly successful series of residence and citizenship events with the announcement of an important forum in May 2015 in Zurich, Switzerland. This forum will cover the key developments in the area of residence and citizenship planning and provide first-hand information from the industry leader, top-tier international service providers and senior government officials. You will meet the people and ideas that drive what has become an important international trend of increasing mobility, transnational thinking and the acceptance of multiple citizenship, contributing to a more understanding, more interconnected and tolerant world.

This event follows a series of extraordinarily successful conferences held around the world, with the last one in October 2014 in Singapore with over 300 attendees and more than 25 sponsors and exhibitors.

First-hand information and networking opportunity

Attendees in Zurich in May will hear first-hand from the world's most respected professionals in the field and the government representatives and thought leaders that really matter. They will have the opportunity to meet senior government officials of the most relevant countries around the world.

There will also be time and space to network with industry professionals, conference exhibitors, clients and their advisors in the elegant setting of Zurich's top hotel over lunch, coffee breaks, receptions and dinner as well as at a lavish post-conference dinner party.

Latest developments in residence and citizenship planning

The forum program will focus on the latest developments in residence and citizenship planning with particular focus on five key areas:

- The Malta Individual Investor Program: setting the new global standard for citizenship programs
- Luxury property and citizenship in Antigua, Nevis, St. Kitts and Cyprus
- Global exchange of information and privacy rights
- Wealth planning for the Russian global citizen
- The concept of citizenship in the 21st century

Government officials from the most relevant countries, including Malta, Switzerland and the UK, will attend the forum at the Dolder Grand in Zurich, along with academic leaders and top professionals in the field. The program will also include high-level panel discussions on the Caribbean,

Switzerland and Russia/CIS as well as risk and compliance.

Confirmed speakers

Confirmed speakers include, amongst others:

- The Hon. Dr. Joseph Muscat
Prime Minister of Malta
- The Hon. Vance Amory
Premier of Nevis
- Graham Zebede
Head of Border Security
Home Office Government of the United Kingdom
- Jonathan Cardona
CEO, Identity Malta Agency
Government of Malta
- Marianne Nufer
Head of Tax Department
Canton of Obwalden, Switzerland
- Professor Dr. Christian Joppke
Director of Institute of Sociology
University of Berne, Switzerland
- Professor Dr. Dimitry Kochenov
Chair in EU Constitutional and Citizenship Law, University of Groningen, Netherlands
- Timothy Mohr
Principal and National Financial Services Advisory Leader
BDO Consulting, New York
- Liam Bailey
Global Head of Residential
Research, Knight Frank, London
- Bruno L'ecuyer
CEO, Investment Migration
Council, Geneva
- Philip Marcovici
Offices of Philip Marcovici
Hong Kong
- Olga Boltenko
Partner, Withers LLP, Zurich
- Matthias Knecht
Foreign Editor, NZZ am Sonntag,
Zurich

Following the end of the conference, a cocktail reception and dinner party will be held. Separate registration is required for this.

How to Register

The conference ticket fee includes all of the following: admission to the conference, cocktail reception with open bar and canapés on 5 May 2015, admission to the full-day conference and exhibition on 6 May, including a choice of four lunch briefings and a complimentary copy of the Switzerland Business & Investment Handbook (a value of 189 francs). The early bird conference ticket fee is available at 980 francs plus VAT, valid for registrations received until 1 February 2015; thereafter the regular conference ticket fee will cost 1,290 francs plus VAT.

Preferential rates are available at the Dolder Grand; please mention the Henley & Partners Forum when making a booking to benefit from these rates. To attend the conference dinner on 6 May, a separate ticket and registration are required.

Please see www.henleyglobal.com/zurich2015 for more information.